OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

SOME TIME AGO A Campbell police officer arrested a SP engineer in town for holding up traffic, not sounding the train whistle or something.

It was the first time apparently that a Campbell cop had taken such action.

Subsequently the engineer became incensed at the situation in which he found himself and filed suit against the city.

The case is sort of pending at the present time. We are not just sure what the status is.

We did run across a note the other day at the police department that showed how one person, at least, feels about it, even if the person was not absolutely correct in why the engineer was arrested.

"Dear Chief Morgan," the note reads, "The officer who arrested the engineer for repeatedly not sounding the train whistle, should be commended and not censured.

"The police should not wait for an accident, before taking action. That crossing on Kennedy Ave. has always worried me."

We especially liked that part: ".....for repeatedly not sounding the train whistle...."

THERE WAS ANOTHER note in the police files that interested us.

The writer of the note thanked the police department for giving her grandmother a box of groceries for Christmas, an unheralded act of the local police that few in town know about.

As the writer pointed out; "It's too bad that the public is not aware of the good your law enforcement agency does for needy people. All of us have been raised to respect you and your laws, and I guarantee my daughter shall be just as respectful....."

We know Chief John Morgan and his crew appreciated that note a great deal.

It is refreshing in face of the taunts of "pig" and worse that demonstrators in many places fling at law enforcement agencies.

A "DEAR GEORGE" letter this week sort of intrigued us.

True it was only from a public relations firm in San Francisco.

Our name was misspelled and it was a form letter with "George" written in ink to make it appear a little more personal.

But the contents were interesting just the same, and we are not referring to a cocktail party to which we were invited via the letter.

According to the letter, the hottest selling "toy" for adults and children alike in 1968 was "an absolutely wild creation called "INSTANT INSANITY".

Unfortunately, we are unfamiliar with "Instant Insanity" but the letter informed us that the sales went over the seven million mark in 1968.

According to the letter, millions throughout the country have awaited with excited anticipation for the inventor of "Instant Insanity," Franz Armbruster, of Cupertino, to come up with his newest invention.

An apparently he has.

This genius of the toy world plans to unveil a 1969 job called "DEELIE BOBBERS" (interlocking plastic circles allowing the player to "do his thing") at this cocktail party we were telling you about.

-0-

ADMITTEDLY WE HAVE not been up on this toy business for quite some time, although at Christmastime our four grand-nephews got us back on the track fairly well.

But this guy Armbruster must have something really good going for him.

The letter ends with the

A SORT OF BEFORE AND AFTER THING--Two members of the Parks and Recreation Commission, (above) graphically illustrate what a 288-unit, 4½-story apartment complex will do to the open-space area that is adjacent to the city-owned park.

Bill Podgorsek (left) points to the area as it now exists while Don Hebard shows how the apartments will shrink it.

The Parks and Recreation Commission has appealed the Planning Commission approval of the apartments. The appeal is on the City Council's agenda for next Monday.

Save park appeal gains strength

Many citizen groups to attend Council meeting on issue Monday

City Council chambers at the City Hall are expected to be jammed next Monday night (Jan. 27) when the City Council considers an unprecedented appeal made by the Parks and Recreation Commission against a ruling of the Planning Commission.

The ruling of the city planners affects the fast-disappearing "open space" suitable for recreational purposes within the city limits, according to the city park people.

Service clubs, home and school groups and youth recreational directors are expected to be represented at the City Council meeting on Monday, urged on by the Parks and Recreation Commission members.

The appeal to the Council has been made collectively and individually by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Petitions with hundreds of names of residents protesting the action of the Planning Commission will be submitted to the city fathers.

On January 6 the city planning body approved the site plan for a 288-unit, 4½-story apartment complex that would be located on the northeast corner of Budd Ave. and San Tomas Expressway.

Parks and Recreation Commission members maintain that this apratment complex will be located in the area that has been designated for development as a central park by the City of Campbell.

The city has owned for some time a seven-acre parcel adjacent to the area that is planned for park and recreational purposes.

At the present time, with the city's blessing, an officially approved baseball field is being developed on the park site by the Campbell-Moreland Pony League. The world series tourney for the Pony League is envisioned for that location by league officials.

The developers of the apartment project agreed to use the 1.25 acre parcel between the proposed apartments and the park as a landscaped "buffer" and the Parks and Recreation Commission was asked by the planners to make a recommendation for this tiny parcel.

But instead of just the one-acre plus bit, the park people took on the whole works, claiming that the height, bulk, mass and silhouette of the apartment buildings would have an adverse effect on the adjoining park area. Looking south and west from the park, the commissioners claimed, one would

City planners turn down service station

A use permit for a gas station proposed for E. Hamilton Ave. on Almarida (across from Breuner's) was turned down by the Planning Commission Monday night.

But the commission unanimously approved a use permit for a private swim and sports center on Rincon Ave. near the city park.

Before the rejection of the use permit for the service station, the commission approved the zone change request for commercial zoning on the portion of the property fronting on Hamilton (where the station was proposed) and for R-3-S for the balance of the property.

CalTex Investment Builders (Pacific Coast Division) is the applicant.

In turning down the station, the commission emphasized the traffic problems that exist now on the street and the proximity of the site to the Highway 17 off-ramp.

In a letter to the commission, Eugene L. Hudson of the firm, asked for rejection or approval Monday night. He claimed that the station was a good use for the property and that would not compound the traffic problems. Hudson also pointed out that the number of gas stations on the street had no bearing on the matter. (It was reported that there are 17 gas stations on Hamilton within the city limits.)

The commission enthusiastically endorsed the application of Robert F. Armstrong for a use permit for a sports and swim center at 476 Rincon Ave., adjacent to school property as well as the city park.

Plans call for the development of the center in a three-phase program which will include a gym and tennis courts, in addition to the swimming pool. It will be operated on the cabana club system and the swim team will compete with other clubs throughout the area.

The commission deferred action on the application of Ralph H. Carnett for approval of a 40-unit apartment complex at 260 N. San Tomas Road near Latimer. Involved in the discussion was a trellis effect that connected five of the buildings which made eight-plexes instead of four-plexes.

Whether shake roofs or gravel were to be used was another point of contention.

The commission approved an office and warehouse at 70 Curtner submitted by Reed Surber and also a variance for Harold R. Warner to allow a second story on his residence at 859 Sunnyoaks.

WRONG NAMES!!

One of those unexplainable typographical errors occurred last week in the front page news story concerning the Colonial Savings and Loan Association.

This firm plans to build an office at the Campbell city limits on Winchester Blvd. just north of Hamilton.

Until the office is completed, Colonial is operating from a modern mobile home trailer that has been moved onto the property.

The Press erred in reporting the names of two savings and loan firms purchased by Colonial.

The correct names of the two firms are Systematic Savings and Loan Association of Daly City and Fremont Savings and Loan Association of Fremont.

The Press regrets that apparently a gremlin sneaked in and "dropped a line".

GOOD OLD DAYS

Memories of the past. The Campbell Press plans to publish its fourth annual progress edition Feb. 19. This one will mark the occasion of our own Diamond Jubilee, and if you have any mementos of the Gay 90's, we would be happy to share them with our reading public.

City asks state for Campbell interchange

Headed by Mayor Bill Smeed, a delegation of Campbell officials was scheduled this morning (Wednesday) at 10:30 in Sacramento to make the first pitch for the proposed interchange at Campbell Avenue and Highway 17.

The presentation will be made before the State Highway Commission.

City Manager Bob Stephens and Bill Wren, public works director, assisted by Bill Helms, assistant city engineer, were to describe the background and needs for the interchange.

The city's request for the full interchange has been bolstered by a traffic engineering report submitted by the George Nolte consulting engineering firm.

City officials emphasize that the interchange could be done more economically at the same time that the state widens Highway 17, improves the Hamilton and Camden interchanges, and constructs new bridges on '17', all planned for 1971.

CofC installs officers Friday

Neal Royer, superintendent of the Campbell Union (elementary) District, will be installed as president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce this Friday (Jan. 24) at the annual dinner-dance at the Villa Felice. The social hour begins at 6:30 p.m. and the dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Superior Judge Richard W. (Dusty) Rhodes, for the fourth successive year, will be installing officer. In addition to Royer, the other officers and directors will be "sworn in" by Judge Rhodes in a ceremony that has now become a tradition of the CofC.

The Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, and a director of the CofC, will serve as master-of-ceremonies of the program.

The annual affair will have two other main features in addition to the installation of the officers and directors.

All former mayors of Campbell (since 1952) have been invited to the event and will be awarded plaques for their service as head of the local city government. The mayors include Dick Morton, John M. Chargin, Myron L. Fairchild, Henry W. Weitzel, Pete Lico, Charles Rose, Ralph Doetsch, Sr., and Ed Rogers. Mayor Bill Smeed will make the presentations to the former mayors.

Another highlight will be the awarding of the citizen-of-the-year plaque. The winner of this annual award will be announced for the first time at the dinner. Don Hebard, last year's winner, is scheduled to be called upon by Rev. Gould to make the presentation for the 1968 citizen-of-the-year, as a start of another "tradition".

The Ambassador-of-the-year award again will go to Al LaPlante, of New York Life. This award goes to the CofC member who has obtained the most new members during the year.

The program will be opened by outgoing president, Ken Mantle, and Sgt. Ellis Atkinson, of the local Air Force recruiting office, will lead the flag salute.

The Rev. John Lally, of St. Lucy's Catholic Church, will give the invocation.

Taking office as first vice-president will be Don Kennedy, manager of the Campbell Ave. branch of Bank of America; Bob Bullard, a CPA with offices in Campbell and who has served as CofC treasurer for the past two years will take office as second vice-president.

Bob Blonder, manager of the local branch of the First Valley Bank, is the new treasurer. Ken Mantle, of New York Life, is the outgoing president.

Four directors-at-large, who were appointed at the first board meeting of the year, will be installed along with the 14 other directors. The 'at-large' directors are the Rev. Gould, Jim O'Brien, of the Hamilton Ave. branch of the Bank of America; Tom Snowden, of Snowden-Pencer and Miles Tully, of Campbell Office Machines.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, civic leader, who was elected a director in December for two years, will be the only woman among the 18 directors and officers who will be installed by Judge Rhodes.

In addition to the officers the other directors include, Earl Nichols, Campbell Drugs; Bob Harrison, IBM; Bill Hedley, architect; Bill Deal, West Valley College; Lowell Grattan, developer; Jerry Arca, Pacific Telephone; Al La Plante, New York Life, Norman Paul, theater owner; Bill Oltmann, public accountant.

Last minute reservations will be accepted until Thursday.

WHO WILL IT BE?

Editorial

Save the park

The "intramural" contest now going between the Planning Commission and the Parks and Recreation Commission over an "open space" situation that exists within the city limits should come to a climax at the Jan. 27 meeting of the City Council.

But what is at stake here is of far greater significance to the city than a mere family squabble between the two City Council advisory bodies.

The City Council, of course, is placed in the unenviable position of being caught smack-dab in the middle between its two advisory groups.

But there is a concept that is involved here that conceivably could have a tremendous effect on the future desires of this community.

The Planning Commission by a 5-1 vote (one commissioner absent) recently approved a 288-unit apartment complex in an area adjoining the city-owned Rincon Park.

One of the conditions of approval was that the Parks and Recreation Commission should recommend what should be done about the 1.25 acre parcel between the proposed apartments and the present seven acre city owned Rincon Park.

The developers had agreed to landscape the parcel as prescribed by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

But members of the park advisory body expressed concern not only with the 1.25 acre parcel but with the entire 9-acre piece on which the plush apartment complex is to be located.

So concerned was the group that they unanimously took the unprecedented step of "appealing" to the City Council the site approval granted by the Planning Commission.

Collectively and individually the park commissioners are asking that the City Council reverse the decision of the Planning Commission and disapprove the site plans.

The seven members of the Park and Recreation Commission claim that the site approval should be denied because lack of consideration was given to the effect of the height, bulk, mass and silhouette of the buildings on the adjoining park area.

They claim that looking south and west from the park area, one would be facing an almost solid wall of 4½-story buildings, much of it within 25-30 feet of the property line. "This would," the letter to the City Council reads, "effectively destroy the open-space character of the entire area so vitally necessary to meet the accepted open-space standards of a Central Park".

The park people also claim that a lack of consideration was given to the effect of this project on the orderly and harmonious development of the adjoining property and its effect on the city's investment in the adjoining property.

The letter of appeal also states:

"The occupancy of the project for habitational use would by its own nature inhibit and restrict the recreational activities that otherwise could be conducted as a normal and customary operation of a recreational park area".

Apparently it is conceded by all concerned that had the park bonds been passed in Oct. 1967, the present problem would not exist because city bond funds would have been used for the purchase of additional central park land and at least five of the acres of the property involved had been specified as needed. The park bonds received a whopping majority but failed by only 30 votes or so to get the necessary two-thirds majority.

There is a great deal at stake in this issue, as far as this community is concerned. We sincerely believe that the action that is taken now will have far-reaching importance for the future.

Our main concern is the limited amount of so-called "open space" that is left within the city limits that is suitable for parks and recreational purposes.

Most studies on a state or national level have emphasized that this dwindling of open space in the urbanized areas will cause a serious problem in the future.

The reports further emphasize that, if open space can be acquired, steps should be taken to do so now, for values will not lessen, obviously, if buildings are constructed on the properties.

There will be some who will argue that the 288-unit apartment complex will improve the tax base of this city to a great extent and thus the city should welcome the construction.

We do not have the audacity to claim that the City of Campbell does not need to improve its tax base.

But we sincerely believe that improving the tax base in a manner that is detrimental to the city as a whole does not serve any useful purpose.

We believe that Campbell of today can be somewhat selective as to what type of developments that are to locate within the city limits. That was not always true.

It is no longer necessary, thanks to some major developments that are now under way in the city, to cater solely to the needs of the developer without giving consideration to the effect on the city of the future.

We are concerned over the lack of open space areas within the city limits that can be used for park purposes. The property that is under discussion is one of those vital areas.

We think final action on the site plans for the apartments adjacent to Rincon Park should be deferred until city bond money can be made available to acquire the land for the expansion of the city park.

We believe this is essential to the welfare of this community.

personal invitation to us from the president of the American Toy Co., to attend the affair as his guest and to meet Mr. Armbruster,–to see his newest creation–" and to meet a number of similarly interesting people".

We are going to try to make it, if for no other reason than to meet "similarly interesting people".

Similarly interesting?

Does that mean they are all toy people?

We mean involved in the toy industry.

Shucks, that lets us out.

We couldn't even work some of those toys our nephews got at Christmas, let alone make 'em.

TRADITIONALLY WE have published the silhouette with a question mark, to depict the "citizen-of-the-year", each year in an issue before the person is chosen.

Who the person is going to be is generally one of the best-kept secrets in town. Only a relatively few people know before the announcement is made at the annual Chamber of Commerce installation dinner.

Obviously the citizen-of the-year can be male or female, despite the fact that our silhouette seems to be that of a man, wearing a short topcoat and hat. (Actually we think we swiped the guy from the Cupertino Courier a number of years ago.)

A caller this week was upset apparently because the silhouette wasn't wearing a skirt.

The caller, a member of the BPW, felt that City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan should be named as citizen-of-the-year.

But, for sure, that silhouette could not be taken for Dorothy.

Incidentally, you may recall that Dorothy was honored at a community testimonial dinner in October.

It is possible, we assume, in this day and age, if we were describing the hippy-generation via silhouette to come up with a long-haired neuter figure that could pass for either.

However, the odds for such a party being named citizen-of-the-year would be pretty slim, don't you think?

Of course we could run two silhouettes.

Anyway we will all know Friday night!

ANOTHER CALLER THE past week thought the suggestion was a good one to name the tiny park around the two walnut trees at the railroad tracks "AINSLEY PARK".

You might recall that Mrs. Laura Romer, a descendant of Benjamin Campbell, made the suggestion. The two walnut trees, incidentally, were planted almost 90 years ago by members of the Campbell family.

The Ainsley name has been around these parts almost as long as the Campbell.

As you know, we are convinced that our few little city parks that are around should be named after people instead of streets.

This was done in the case of the park on Alice and Winchester which has been named after Joseph V. Gomes.

We see no reason why traditions and families of this community should not be honored in such a manner.

But how many of you like naming that little park at Campbell Ave. and the railroad tracks, "The Ainsley Park"?

How about letting us know via the mailman?

PAST MAYORS OF Campbell will be honored this Friday night at the annual installation dinner at Villa Felice.

A majority of the mayors, we understand, will be present.

Campbell has been a city for almost 17 years. But there have not been 17 mayors, only nine.

It has only been in the last few years that the mayor's gavel has been exchanged on an annual basis.

Charlie Rose, for example, was the last mayor to serve two years. Since then Ralph Doetsch and Ed Rogers handled the chore only for a year. And Bill Smeed, the current mayor, is slated to go out of office in April.

All nine of the men who have sat in the mayor's chair are still kicking about (...Five of 'em still reside within the city limits - Smeed, Rogers, Doetsch, Rose and Henry "Whitey" Weitzel).

Three still live in the general area - Dick Morton, John Chargin and Pete Lico. One, Myron Fairchild, has moved any distance. He now lives in Cloverdale.

That's quite a record for any city.

A long time ago we shot the first four mayors of the city in a group.

Maybe we can shoot the other five at the dinner Friday.

That should be good for posterity.

RAIN DROPS

Flooded streets and overflowing creeks that have been part of the Campbell storm scene in years past were missing this year, in spite of the heavy down-pour that has flooded other Santa Clara County cities.

A total of 7,500 sq. feet of storm drains costing $150,000 was a major project of the city of Campbell during the spring and summer months. In the past Campbell Ave. has been the scene of "wall-to-wall" water, but this year saw the heavy down-pour carried off before causing damage.

Dredging of the San Tomas creek by the Santa Clara County Flood Control also helped keep flooding down. In the past the San Tomas creek has flooded at least once during the rainy season, and the removal of vast quantities of gravel and debris have eliminiated the problem.

A wet week-long rain dumped 3.39 inches of water on Campbell, bringing the total rainfall to date to 9.96 inches.

Last year at this date 4.32 inches had been recorded, with 7.33 inches as normal for this time of year. Total last year for the season was 14.51.

face an almost solid wall of 4½-story buildings.

The open space character of the area would be de--stroyed, they maintain, by–the apartments.

Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, and Hank Cary, a commission member, emphasize that the present problem would not have arisen had the parks bonds passed in Oct. 1967. (They failed to get a two-thirds majority by 30 votes.)

Both Hebard and Cary were active in the bond campaign and the citizens study group that preceded it. Cary headed the parks sub-committee which in its report to the full committee had recommended that five of the nine-acre parcel adjoining the central park be acquired for park purposes. The bond issue would have provided funds for the acquisition.

Parks and Recreation Commission members also emphasized that the entire area adjacent to the expressway between Budd and Campbell avenues should be developed into a parks and recreational and public use, for it is a "natural". It also adjoins the Campbell Elementary School which is not using all the school property in the area.

Leaders in the local "ground swell", who are fighting to retain the little open space territory that remains in the city, feel certain that a bond issue for park land acquisition would be approved by the voters if presented now.

Campbell Community Hospital celebrates sixth anniversary

It was a big year for Campbell Community Hospital, this week marking its sixth anniversary of operation.

It was a year in which Campbell Community Hospital became the first in the area to provide facilities for two young Vietnamese casualties of the war.

Two teen-age youths, Le Nhon from Da Nang and Huynh Bua from Quang Nam were brought to this country by the San Jose branch of the Committee of Responsibility (COR), a nationwide group which has brought many young people to this country from the war-torn areas of Viet Nam.

Another major development for the hospital was the basing there of the non-profit Home Health Care and Rehabilitation Center, providing comprehensive home care for patients on a county-wide basis.

The hospital also expanded its facilities to include a Department of Surgical Pathology headed by William J. Siegel, M. D.

Mrs. Helen White, R.N. director of nursing at the hospital since its inception, moved to Carmel with her family, and was replaced by Miss Rita Nickodem, R.N., former supervisor and assistant director of nursing at El Camino Hospital, Mt. View.

Socially, the hospital continued to receive the benefits of the work of its auxiliary members on its behalf, highlighted by construction of a gift shop in the main lobby, manned by volunteers.

The second annual Campbell Community Hospital Golf Tournament was held, with Billy Wilson, famed former San Francisco 49er player and coach, as tournament chairman, with Oak Ridge as the site.

Finally, five-year pins were awarded, just as they are being this week, to those who had served the hospital for the first five years of its existence, in ceremonies at Villa Felice, and Dr. Michael S. Cahn was named Chief of the Medical Staff.

It was a year marked by continued growth and expansion of the hospital, with patient count for the six-year period reaching a record 15,011.

Campbell churches join next Sunday in unity observance

Six Campbell churches, including the large Protestant congregations and St. Lucy's Catholic Church, have joined together in one united effort in observance of the national Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, which will be held Jan. 18 - 25.

The Campbell observance of Unity Week will include an open door tour of the churches, to be held from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 26. At this time St. Lucy's Roman Catholic church, 2350 Winchester Blvd.; the First United Methodist Church, 1675 Winchester Blvd.; The Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 W. Campbell Ave.; Zion Lutheran Church, 3257 Payne Ave.; St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 Rincon Ave. and the Immanuel United Presbyterian Church, 3705 Payne Ave., will all hold open house.

Guided tours will be conducted of the various houses of worship and greeters will be on hand to make the guests feel welcome and answer questions concerning the various forms of Christian worship. Special displays will be arranged and the vestments and mementos of each church will be explained.

The county-wide observance is being sponsored by the Santa Clara County Council of Churches, Division of Christian Unity and the Catholic Council for Social Justice of Santa Clara County.

"Called to Freedom" is the theme for the week.

The county-wide observance will culminate in an interdenominational service at the Stanford Memorial Chapel, Stanford University at which time Father Clarence J. Rivers, a Negro Catholic priest, will conduct the service.

PG&E annual report indicates continued growth in 1969

Sustained economic growth in Northern and Central California in 1969 is forecast by Pacific Gas and Electric Company in its annual "Market Outlook" published this month,

Total population, employment, personal income and taxable retail sales will advance moderately above record levels attained in the past year, PG&E believes. Emphasizing the region's basic vitality, the publication notes that the local effect of unforeseeable national and international conditions is the main question mark.

The analysis of business prospects for the company's 48 county service area by its marketing research and services department was released by senior vice president C. Elliot Ginochio.

California population will grow by 312,000 persons, a 1.6% rate of gain, reaching 20,234,000 persons by year end, it is estimated. Of the newcomers, about 150,000 will be in PG&E-served counties.

Manufacturing employment in seven metropolitan areas in 12 counties is expected to rise to 402,000 persons, a 1.3% gain.

Total personal income will be up an estimated $5.0 billion over 1968 to a new high of $80.9 billion in 1969, a 6.6% projected growth rate. Per capita income of California residents is 15% above the national average, the PG&E study notes.

Taxable retail sales in the 48-county PG&E area will rise an estimated 4.8% to a new record of $17.8 billion. Record sales of major gas and electric appliances by local dealers are forecast, totaling 1½ million units with a retail value of $390 million.

New housing construction will continue its uptrend in response to strong pent-up demand and greater acceptance of present-day interest rates. An estimated increase of 13% over 1968 will produce 64,000 new dwellings, including 20, 800 apartment units and 43, 200 single family homes.

Farm cash receipts in 1969 should equal or exceed the estimated $4 billion for 1968, leading to an "agribusiness" volume of farm related business totaling $16 billion.

Special sections of the PG&E publication sketch a broad picture of many elements contributing to Northern and Central California prosperity. PG&E's own $340 million construction program for 1969 is among these factors.

Driving classes can cause drop in accidents

County employees who have taken a class in defensive driving have fewer preventable accidents, and the accidents are less serious, the County Personnel Department reports.

The County has 3,600 employees whose jobs require them to use a car, either a County-owned vehicle or their own auto on public business.

So far 2,300 of them or 64 percent have taken the Personnel Department driving classes, and it has been found that they were responsible for only 35 percent of the preventable accidents involving County on-the-job driving.

The driving employees were involved in 29 preventable accidents in the past 12 months, and only 10 of these involved the 2,300 drivers from the classes. Those accidents resulted in less serious injuries and damages than the other 19.

The 19 accidents involved the 1,300 driving employees who have not as yet taken the classes.

The training program is conducted by the Personnel Department's Employee Service Division with materials prepared by the National Safety Council.

The County also has an Accident Review Board which studies each accident involving a county employee to determine if it reasonably could have been prevented by the employee.

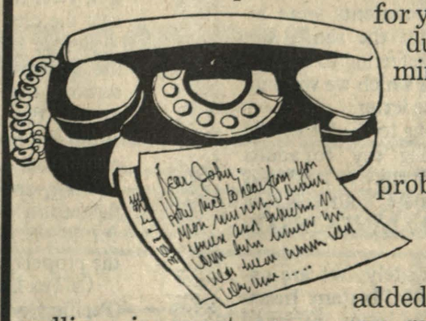
Nobody's perfect. Once in awhile you may find a pay telephone that swallows your dime instead of returning it to you. If this ever happens, our apologies. To get it back, just dial the Operator from another phone. She'll return your second dime and arrange for a refund on the one you lost. And if you'll give her the number of the telephone in trouble, she'll see that it's repaired as quickly as possible.

If you're one of those people who can't seem to get down to writing letters, you'll be glad to know that a three-minute long distance call will replace about a two-page letter for you! It's a fact: during a three-minute call you can say just about all the words you'd probably be writing—as many as 450 of them. An added advantage to calling: in most cases you get answers to your questions and the comments you're after without waiting for days. Plenty can be covered during such a telephone call, but it's helpful to jot down some notes on what you want to say before you call. When you keep in touch with friends and family by phone, you can get a lot more understood a lot quicker—for surprisingly little.



Here's an inexpensive and practical item you'll want to know about. It's a separate, personal listing in the telephone directory for various members of your household. These listings are particularly helpful if anyone in your home has a last name that's different from yours. Each additional name listed in the directory is only 35¢ a month. Camden Chatter

By Diane Carman

Varsity Letterman's Club climaxed "the season of giving" with a $150 donation to the William Clemmons Kidney Fund on Dec. 20, 1968.

The idea for the contribution came about as a motion by John Stewart. Fred Isaia was the president of the club at that time.

Beginning the new year as January's Seniors-of-the-Month are Phyllis Aiello and Robin Hirano. Phyllis was a letter girl last year and is currently rally commissioner. She enjoys working with children and thus will continue her studies to become an elementary school teacher.

Robin Hirano is currently senior vice-president and editor of the yearbook. He is also a member of CSF and has been a junior representative. Robin plans to attend the University of California at Berkeley in order to become a nuclear engineer.

The Cougars clobbered the Westmont Warriors on their court Jan. 10, 67-36, wrapping up their fourth league win.

Playing only three quarters, Rick Menden led the Cougars to victory with 31 points and 13 rebounds. The Cougars were positive of their win late in the third quarter when mentor Bill Young began to substitute the first string players. Russ Ferrante, chosen for the All-Tournament Team after the Sunnyvale Tournament, followed Menden in scoring with 9 tallies.

CAMPBELL. Camden trounced the Buccaneers of Campbell, 56-45, in the Cougar's gym, Jan. 7. Rick Menden paced the Cougars with 24 points and 23 rebounds followed by Russ Ferrante with 12 points. Phil Lind helped in the rebounding department with 14 rebounds.

PROSPECT. The Cougars were handed their first league loss Jan. 3 in Prospect's gym, 49-47. Although Rick Menden tallied 18 points, Camden was unable to bring about a win.

LOS GATOS. Camden received their second league win in the Los Gatos Wildcat's gym Dec. 20, 63-44. Rick Menden led the offense with 26 points and cracked the boards for 18 rebounds. Phil Lind was second in scoring with 10 points and Al Buchholz was second in rebounding with 11 points.

LEIGH. The Cougars played one of their finest games of the year when they trounced Leigh, 81-59, in the Longhorns' gym Dec. 17. Art Worcham was the mainstay of the game when he consistently frustrated the opposing guards by stealing the ball and scoring many times throughout the game. Art ended up with 10 recoveries and 17 points. Tim Tolbert followed in scoring when he hit 100 per cent from the floor and totaled 14 points. Rick Menden followed Tim with 13, followed by Russ Ferrante with 12, followed by Al Buchholz with 10.

The Cougars' frosh/soph team has a tally of 3 wins, 2 losses. They dribbled over Leigh, Prospect and Westmont. Los Gatos and Campbell defeated the Cougar team for the 2 losses.

Campbell Corners

By Barbara Handel

Campbell lost the game against Los Gatos last Friday with a score of 67-72. Highest scorer was Jim Russell with 25 points followed by Jim Royer with 11 points.

The frosh/soph team also lost their game by a slim margin of 51-52. The game kept going back and forth but during the last seconds the Wildcats made a basket, making it hard for the Bucs to recover. Scorers for the frosh/soph game were Joe Alvarez, Steve Lobravich, Randy Wetterstrom and Sam LaBoe. This was their first loss of the league games played.

The wrestling team also remains with an undefeated season. In the match against Del Mar the score was tied until the last match when junior Ron Wood pinned a guy in 16 seconds which brought about another victory for the team.

Other wrestlers are Dan Cunningham, Ralph Jordon, Greg Zelmar, Ed Guerra, Jerry Fournier, Larry Power. The team as a whole consists of approximately 30 boys. Campbell graduate Andy Jackson has helped the boys during their practices. The coaches are Coach Al Mathews and Coach Lou Marotti.

The final elections were held last Friday for Student Council. President is George Akina, Vice-President is Mark Cunningham. Councilmen are Ed Guerra, Jim Gaddis, and Jim Royer.

Applications for Assistant Student Manager are still available in room 35.

The class office elections were held yesterday. Results will be stated next week.

The assembly scheduled for this week has been re-scheduled for next week due to the absence of Mr. Robert Culp, principal. Mr. Culp, senior Janie Wong, and 1968 graduate Mason Sacks were invited to the presidential inauguration in Washington, D.C. They will return the latter part of this week.

Del Mar Dateline

By Janice Hallyburton and Molly Ford

Del Mar is still undefeated as it won over the winless Westmont (69-45). It is the seventh win for Del Mar.

Sue Foster, Del Mar Junior, was elected with the most money, for Wrestling Queen at the Wrestling Invitational Saturday, January 18. All last week wrestlers were collecting coins for their favorite choice.

Linda Adams, also from class of '70, was elected Spring Semester Pep Club President. Serving with her are Sue Thompson, vice - president; Jamie Wheelahan, secretary; and Roberta Chavez, treasurer.

Del Mar recently held a charity slave auction on campus during both lunches. The idea, which went off well, was to collect money for the needy people in the United States.

Thirty-two girls were sold as slaves to some lucky boys. Prices went as high as $18 for Jill McDowell from Mr. Domiquez's 4th period soph. science, and $15 for Mary Mokres, a song girl, from Steve Carr.

Deadline for study program nears

Approximately 150 students will participate in an overseas study program this summer offered within the Campbell Union High School District.

The program will be held in major European cities such as Madrid, Rome, Paris and London. The course will begin July 17 and end on August 27.

Over 20 counselors will be responsible for the students. Reservations should be made before the end of January. Call the Campbell district office, 379-4710 for further details if you want your son or daughter to participate.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Changing Presidents is an expensive process. When President Richard M. Nixon took the Oath on January 20, the direct and indirect costs were more than $50 million.

First, there was the multi-million dollar cost of the campaign, then the $3 million expense of the inaugural festivities and finally the personal expenses of thousands who came to Washington to participate.

The only inaugural costs paid by the taxpayers are $400,000 for the Inaugural Ceremony itself. Part of this will be recovered when the lumber in the inaugural stands is resold at prices which reflect its historic value.

All other expenses are recovered from ticket sales (at healthy prices) to those who received "invitations" to the inauguration. The six Inaugural Balls which cost $350,000 yield a handsome profit from tickets sold at $35 each (a box seating eight sold for $1,000). These Balls produce more revenue than any social event in our history.

A rough estimate of the average cost for a couple to participate in all inaugural events might be somewhat as follows: transportation, $300; hotel and meals, $200; a new (and modest) gown for the Reception for Distinguished Ladies at the National Gallery of Art, $75; two tickets to the Inaugural Gala, $50 (prices range from $10 to $100); cocktail dress for the Governor's Reception (by invitation only), $75.

Assuming milady "made do" with an older gown for two Sunday afternoon Receptions, one for Governor's (by invitation only) and another for the Vice President-elect, the total cost of Sunday afternoon was only $20 for tickets to the Vice President-elect's Reception.

Ducats for the Inaugural Concert on Sunday evening sold for $10, $15, $25, and $35, while boxes seating five persons went for $500. Assuming a modest seat and no new gown this cost our couple another $50.

The official Inaugural Ceremony was probably the best bargain. Tickets were received from Members of Congress who received eight to distribute to constituents on a first come, first served basis. The suggested dress for the Ceremony and the Parade which follows was simple–"warm, outdoor clothing". Thus, the only expenses for the day were the cost of the Parade tickets which ranged from $4 to $25. Most people settled for the $12 variety which added $24 to our couple's bill for the day.

The climax was the Inaugural Ball with tickets selling at $70 per couple. But chauffeured transportation is considered by many as essential to the dignity of the event. Ladies are expected to wear a new long formal gown and gloves, and gentlemen must rent white tie and tails at the inflated price of $25. So the Inaugural Ball added a minimum of $250 to our couple's expenses and brought the total to over $1,000.

Pacific Telephone report lists, locates all world's telephones

Holiday greetings with 4,000 residents of Christmas Island could be exchanged by telephone for the first time in 1968.

The tiny Australian island in the Indian Ocean has 186 telephones and is one of the new points of connection for telephones in the United States. The island was sighted and named in 1643.

This vignette and other statistics – such as the fact that there was 222 million telephones in the world at the beginning of 1968 – are included in "The World's Telephones," the annual review released by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The figures are as of Jan. 1, 1968, because it takes almost a year to gather statistics from telephone administrations and companies around the world.

AT&T said 96 percent of the world's telephones can be called by United States telephone users. International calling from the U.S. increased 23 percent during 1967 to 12.3 million calls. This is five times the number of overseas calls made 10 years ago.

In telephone talk, Canada leads the United States by a narrow margin. Telephone conversations averaged 667.7 per person during 1967, compared with 667.0 per person in the U.S. Both these figures were up over the previous year.

Thirty-three countries now have more than half a million phones. Colombia and Yugoslavia are newcomers to the list. The United States, with almost 104 million, has five-and-a-half times as many phones as Japan, second in ranking of countries.

The United States is also first in the number of telephones relative to population with 51.8 telephones for every 100 persons.

In addition to Christmas Island, new points of connection established during 1968 include Equatorial Guinea, the Falkland Island, Laos, and the Seychelles.

FUN NIGHT

A "Fun Night" has been planned by members of the St. Lucy's parish for Friday, Jan. 24. Sponsored by the Altar Society, the affair will be held in Kennelly Annex.

JayCee's kick-off membership drive

Campbell Jaycees, in connection with the national and local JayCee week being held from Jan. 19 to 25, have launched an all out membership campaign to attract and gain new members among the local businessmen from the ages of 21 to 35.

The JayCee program is geered to the young man who wants to get involved in the problems of the community. The prospective member will also gain valuable leadership training through community development.

Membership qualifications include subscribing to the JayCee code which believes that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; that economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise.

The JayCee week was formally recognized by the City of Campbell in a proclamation signed by William Smeed, mayor.

The Campbell JayCee group holds a dinner meeting the second and fourth Wednesdays of every month, according to Nozer Haladwala, vice president who is heading the membership campaign. Prospective members are welcome to attend the dinner meetings.

Haladwala will welcome any questions concerning the JayCees and can be reached at 736-9330 or 379-0297.

The Campbell JayCees are an active group who have sponsored many civic improvement projects, including car safety checks, the flag program, whereby Campbell businesses are assured of flying the flag on holidays and a vision screening program for preschoolers.

The JayCees during the last year built the playground at Eastfield Children's home and in other years they made possible the small corner park at Harrison and Campbell Avenues.

As I View It

By John W. Gilbaugh

Do you remember when a college professor, any college professor, was viewed as an intellectual pillar of society? Or. when professors took pride in working with their student charges in search of truth in their respective teaching specialties? How times have changed!

From their tenure-sheltered, campus sanctuaries professors now unleash periodic, commando-type raids on unsuspecting taxpayers. Gone are the days when a professor considered teaching to be his prime obligation. Or, the success of his students to be a major responsibility for which he was to be held accountable.

Professors are now preoccupied with teachers' rights. And their energies, instead of being spent in libraries, researching and engaging in other intellectual pursuits to keep abreast of the knowledge explosion, are expended in running the institutions. Though, the taxpaying public can ill-afford to equip every faculty chair with an administrative steering wheel, this, nevertheless, has become a virtual reality in the state colleges and universities. And, this system of management is, likewise, encroaching on elementary and secondary education.

MARKING A CENTURY—Dr. Lucy Kilgore Vierhus, assists her husband, Conrad K. Vierhus, of Oceanside, in finding a suitable verse from the Bible that marks the hundredth birthday of "CKV" on Tuesday, Jan 21.

Conrad K. Vierhus reaches century mark

EDITOR'S NOTE: On Tuesday (Jan. 21) of this week, Conrad K. Vierhus, now of Oceanside, reached that rare milestone in age that is achieved by only a very few.

He became 100 years old.

"C.K.", as he was known in Chowchilla, Calif., where he was in business and "we kids" grew up, or "Uncle Con", as he is known in Oceanside where he has resided for the past 23 years, is the father of George Vierhus of Campbell, editor and publisher of The Campbell Press and John Vierhus of Los Gatos, an insurance agent in the area.

Until recent months, "Uncle Con" was an active member of the First Baptist Church of Oceanside, rarely missing church and Sunday School services.

He has also been a prolific reader. With his reading plus that "new-fangled gadget", television, he kept abreast of current events and the changes that have taken place in his 100-years.

A long-time Republican, Dad was pleased that it was "arranged" that President Richard Nixon was to be inaugurated on "C.K.'s" birthday, or almost. (Nixon missed by one day.)

Some time ago, Mrs. Roberta Zillman, of Oceanside, also a member of the First Baptist Church, interviewed "Uncle Con". In the interview she touched on some of the high points of the past 100 years that "Uncle Con" recalled.

In a note to us with a copy of the interview, Mrs. Zillman described "Uncle Con" and his wife "Dr. Lucy" as "dear, sweet, wonderful people. I count it a great privilege to have gotten to know them".....

We are privileged to publish the following article written by Mrs. Zillman marking that eventful occasion when our father reached the century mark in age.....G. V.

...ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD...
by Roberta Zillman, Oceanside, California

(From personal interview and memoirs written in 1956.)

An abiding faith in God, regular habits and proper nutrition, in that order, is the advice of Conrad K. Vierhus of Oceanside, who was one hundred years old on Jan. 21, 1969.

"Uncle Con", as he is affectionately known in Oceanside, hasn't been able to join his many friends in Sunday School and church in recent months. He went into the hospital for minor surgery in November and was still there on his birthday this week.

With a twinkle in his eye he said, "Sometimes I feel like one hundred and ten".

Uncle Con was born Jan. 21, 1869 in Malcom, Ontario, Canada; the youngest of nine children. His parents had immigrated there from Germany.

He learned to read and write before he was old enough to go to school. The remainder of his formal education, to third reader and fractions was acquired in the small school house in Malcom.

The family attended Sunday School and church together every Sunday. As a boy, "Uncle Con" was baptised in the Baptist church which had been built outside of town.

One of his earliest memories was driving his father into Walkerton, a town a few miles away.

"We stopped in front of the hardware store", "Uncle Con" said. "I stayed in the wagon and looked in the window at the decorated stoves. I was so thrilled and kept that view in my mind all through the years until I had such a store for myself."

"My sister, Augusta, was the first one to marry in 1880", he recalled. "They settled on the east coast of Lake Huron. Father, mother and I visited them once. We drove 30 miles with a team and wagon. That was a long way then."

Four brothers had government land in the Dakota Territory which had been opened to homesteaders a few years earlier.

"Uncle Con" came to the Dakota Territory in 1886. "I worked on an 800-acre ranch for $15 a month plus board and lodging", he remembered.

Three years later North Dakota was admitted as the 39th state.

"In 1901, my brother, Frank, and I opened a hardware store in Brocket, North Dakota. Finally, I had the store I had dreamed of", he continued. "Those were the most exciting years of my life. Brocket was a pioneer community. All inhabitants were strangers to each other. No past records were involved. We were like one big family, only closer; a feeling only found in pioneer life and lasts only while people are strangers to each other."

"Uncle Con" married Theresa Conley in 1907. They had four children; two of whom are living now. John, who is in the insurance and investment field in Los Gatos, California, and George, who is editor and publisher of The Campbell Press, in Campbell, California.

He has two grandsons, Jack, associated in business with his father in the area and Rick, a graduate student at San Jose State. "Uncle Con" already has four great-grandsons.

Moving to California in 1920, they settled in Chowchilla, a small town near Merced. There he started a shoe and men's furnishings store.

A few years after the death of his wife in 1936, he sold his property.

In 1945, he married Dr. Lucy Kilgore. She had been one of the first women doctors in the San Francisco East Bay area; had practiced medicine for over 30 years, but was retired because of arthritis.

They returned to the home Dr. Lucy had bought in Oceanside in the early twenties. They are still living there. When they can get out, they attend the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Lucy is only 86 so she takes good care of him; sees that he has proper diet, rest and medicine.

"Come on, Uncle Con", she says, "eat well so we can build up your strength and get back to Sunday School and church. We haven't been for nearly two months."

Hospital auxiliary opens new gift shop

The Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary was organized April 15, 1964. At this time a tea was held in the hospital conference room. Invitations had been mailed to wives of community leaders, businessmen, members of the Campbell Country Women's Club, announcing plans to form a volunteer service group.

Enthusiasm was great and things moved swiftly so that auxiliary members were working in the hospital in just three weeks. Mrs. Lee Mondragon was elected first president and has been followed by Mrs. William Smeed and Mrs. Eric Schramm. Serving with Mrs. Schramm this year are Mmes. James Gillespie, vice-president; James Malone, secretary; Robert Burton, treasurer; Anthony Jurras, parliamentarian and Harlan Moore, historian.

Auxiliary members feel that volunteer service has its rewards and is an excellent way to meet a very nice group of women. Those interested in being a volunteer are seldom ladies with too much time on their hands. On the contrary, they are generally active homemakers busy with family and various activities. They give generously of their time and talent with a sense of pride in serving their community through volunteer service.

Besides the non-medical tasks that the Auxiliary performs around the hospital, they also assist with the hospital's annual golf tournament. Mrs. Thomas Smith has been chairman of this event for two years.

Every December many of the members are involved in the annual Christmas party for children of hospital personnel; they shop for the gifts, wrap them and act as Santa's helpers the day of the party.

The recent construction of a gift shop in the hospital lobby was a happy event for all concerned. Up until Nov. 23, 1968 they operated a gift cart. Funds derived from sales in the past have been used to purchase a sixteen millimeter Graflex sound projector and several checks have been given to the hospital toward the purchase of heart monitoring equipment and an addressograph machine.

The Auxiliary was especially happy to have made a donation toward the heart monitoring equipment as one of the members needed the use of it last week.

For the past two summers Mr. and Mrs. James Malone have opened their home to members and their husbands for a barbeque. This is a popular event and one looked forward to. With a small group the members all know one another and have the feeling of being a family, which is a nice bonus considering the prime purpose and concern is service.

GIFT SHOP OPENS—Mrs. Eric Schramm, president of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary, left, stands behind the counter of the newly-opened gift shop at the hospital. With her, sorting the mail, stands Mrs. Bets White. The two women offer for sale many gifts and useful items needed by hospital patients. The new gift shop was remodeled from the former admittance office and replaces the cart formerly used by the auxiliary members. The two members are wearing the attractive uniforms worn by the auxiliary as they go about their many duties in the hospital.

Boy booked on suspicion of burglary

A 15-year old boy was booked into Juvenile Hall last week after he was apprehended illegally in the 157 Harrison Ave. residence of Joseph Meckler. The boy was seen first knocking on the front door of the home and then going to the rear of the house, after which a neighbor observed a light going on in the home and called police.

Questioning revealed that the youth was probably responsible for several other residential burglaries committed in Campbell in the past few weeks.

Several Campbell residents lost jewelry and small appliances over the last week, including Michael Lobnitz, 837 Silacci Drive who had $412 worth of rings and other jewelry removed from his home Jan. 19. A screen had been removed and the house entered via a back window. Miscellaneous tools and machines valued at $200 were removed from a storage shed at the rear of 335 McGlincey Lane.

A lull was noted in downtown burglaries. Police activities included recording three stolen cars, one stolen motorcycle, one stolen bike and six bikes found.

RAIN FALL

An inch of rain falling evenly over one acre of ground would total 3,630 cubic feet of water.

Voters to elect three trustees

Forms for local registered voters who wish to run for the Campbell Union School District board of trustees are available at the district office.

Three seats will be at stake in the election to be held on April 15.

There is no filing fee and the notice of candidacy must be recorded with the County Registrar of Voters before 5 p.m. on February 20.

Trustees whose terms expire on June 30 are Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, John Merriell and George Talley.

HONOR'S LIST

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Here's a real basketball oddity... The inventor of basketball, James Naismith, was not a successful coach in the game he originated!... After establishing the game, Naismith coached basketball at Kansas for nine seasons, but his overall record was only 53 wins and 56 losses.

Did you ever realize how honest baseball umpires have been over the years?... The all - time great ump, Bill Klem, expressed it best when he said, "There have been bankers who were dishonest, there have been brokers, public figures, doctors, lawyers and even clergymen. But never, never has a big league baseball umpire been found to be dishonest in his work. No umpire has ever been convicted of cheating in the entire history of baseball"... That's quite a record.

Cerebral palsy drive goes on all January

United Cerebral Palsy Association of Santa Calra County has launched its annual fund drive. Sheriff Charles A. Prelsnik is chairman of the 1969 annual campaign for funds which finances the agency's program of services to cerebral palsy victims.

The house-to-house march was from Jan. 14-19 but the drive will continue throughout the month in an effort to raise $75,000 which will allow continuing the national and local programs, the major one is the operation of four day care centers, two in San Jose and one each in Cupertino and Mt. View.

VIKING VICTORY--John Knabke of the West Valley College Viking basketball team goes high for a jump shot in the game against Solano won by the Vikings 91-56. Pat Linane is in white the second from the right.

West Valley sporting a 1-1 record in league play and a 5-10 season mark takes on first-year Canada in Redwood City this Friday night. In the Solano contest Steve Gera and Gary Anderson led the Vikes to victory as they dumped in 23 and 22 points respectively. Linane scored 14 and Knabke hit for 11. The Vikes previously had lost 86-75 to the College of Marin.

Third Saratoga campus building gets board ok

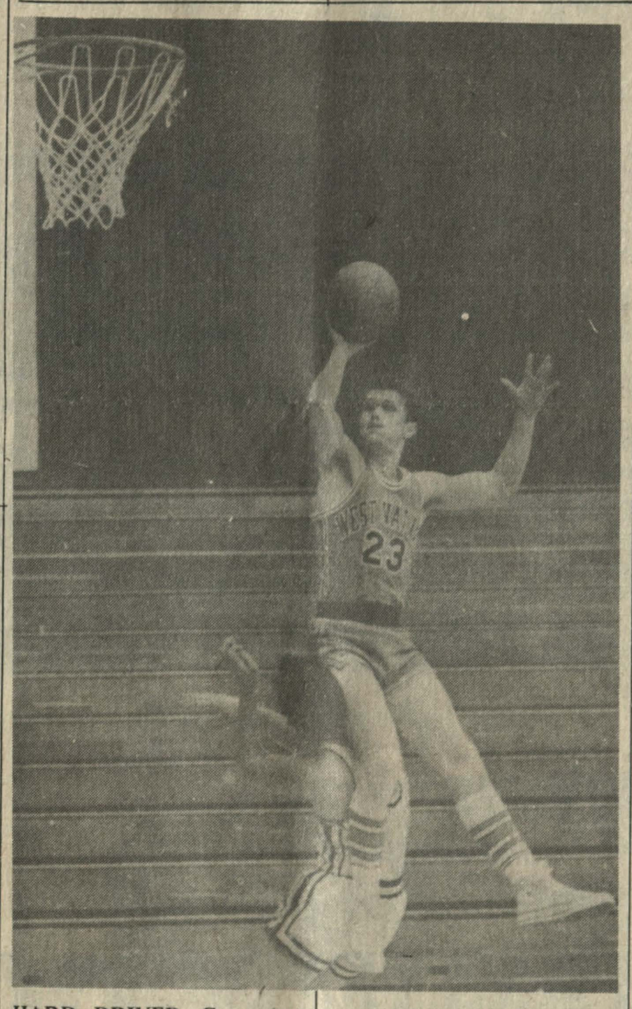
Preliminary plans for the third building to be erected on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College have been approved by the Board of Trustees. The district's architects, Reid and Tarics, have been authorized to proceed with development of final working drawings for the $1,554,053 Language Arts-Social Science structure.

The action highlighted a significant 4½-hour session, which included many vital agenda actions.

The Language Arts-Social Science Building will be paid for with $500,000 in federal funds, an expected $484,840 to be allocated from the new budget to be presented to the State Legislature by the Governor this month, and another $569,213 in local funds.

The Board also approved student requests for establishment of an experimental college, designed to provide those who wish to attend with an expanded curriculum of non-credit and non-graded courses. Student leaders said the experimental college would seek to "augment" classes already offered. Interest is so high, they said, that 70 students attended the organizational meeting of the group.

The Student Senate had previously voted to provide some financial assistance to the experimental college. District funds will not be utilized to support the college, nor will college credit be given for any course work taken under the auspices of the college.



HARD DRIVER---Gary Anderson of West Valley College drives hard against Canada in a Camino Norte conference game last week in Redwood City which was by the Vikings 81-48. Joe Leahy and Pat Linane led West Valley in scoring with 14 and 13 points. West Valley takes a break this week from league play. The Vikings are playing Sacramento State frosh. The Vikings have now put together their first two-game win streak of the season.
